Selma Screening of Oscar-Nominated Documentary The Alabama Solution, Brings Attention to Prison Work Release Programs During 61st Anniversary of “Bloody Sunday” Bridge Crossing

WHAT:

During the 61st anniversary weekend of the Selma Bridge Crossing, community members, faith leaders, and workers will gather for a special screening of the Oscar-nominated documentary The Alabama Solution, followed by a panel discussion featuring formerly incarcerated workers and family members of those currently incarcerated in Alabama’s prison system.

The event will also spotlight Recall Injustice at Hyundai-Kia, a newly launched campaign working to hold corporations accountable for labor practices linked to the Alabama Department of Corrections work release system and wage suppression in the state’s auto supply chain.

WHEN:

4:00 - 6:30 p.m. CT
The Walton Theatre
Selma, Alabama

WHY:

Hosted by Good Neighbors Alabama and The Ordinary People Society (TOPS), this event connects the legacy of the Civil Rights Movement to present-day struggles over incarceration, labor rights, and economic justice. As Alabama commemorates the historic fight for voting rights in Selma, community leaders say the struggle for justice continues in the state’s prison system and industrial economy. Recent research by leading world economists at Columbia University’s Labor Lab has documented the use of incarcerated labor in Alabama’s auto supply chain and its impact on wages and working conditions for all workers.

This event connects that research to lived experience and calls for a binding Community Benefits Agreement to protect workers and communities.

About The Ordinary Peoples Society

The Ordinary People Society (TOPS) is a grassroots movement born from the strength and resilience of our community in Dothan, Alabama. Since 2001, we have stood shoulder-to-shoulder with those directly impacted by addiction, incarceration, homelessness, poverty, and hunger—fighting not just to provide support, but to dismantle the systems that perpetuate these struggles. Our work is powered by the belief that real change comes from collective action, mutual aid, and the voices of ordinary people rising together. TOPS is committed to creating a just and equitable community where everyone is valued and included, regardless of race, gender, creed, color, religion, or social status.
